

Glebe House

Friends Therapeutic Community Trust

Constitution for Glebe House School

CONSTITUTION FOR GLEBE HOUSE INDEPENDENT SPECIAL SCHOOL

1 Background

1.1 The Friends Therapeutic Community Trust (Glebe House) is a therapeutic community for up to 16 boys and young males aged 15 – 19 who have committed serious and harmful sexual offences. Glebe House has always had some elements of educational provision and became an established independent School in 2016 and an Independent Special School (SEMh) in 2021.

1.2 Glebe House is a fully residential community providing treatment and care throughout the whole year via an extensive programme of therapeutic interventions. It is effective in helping this vulnerable group with independent research (Boswell et al 2014) showing that it significantly reduces risk of subsequent re-offending – leading to fewer victims, breaking the cycle of damaging behaviour and introducing the possibility of new futures for those completing the Glebe House programme. This research recognised that a vital component of the successful intervention regime is the creation of a positive attitude to learning and education. Hope about the future is built and reinforced through developing a positive view of life-long learning. The School Governing Body recognises the significance of these factors and the whole community seeks to braid and embed educational achievement into the culture of the Trust.

1.3 The boys and young males at Glebe House come from a range of backgrounds many of which are very difficult. Their experience of education has often been fractured, with little experience of achievement or success. Some have special educational needs. For many, contact with their families is strictly controlled.

1.4 The School is embedded within the wider community of Glebe House. As such many of the responsibilities that are normally delegated to the Governors and the Head of School are under the responsibility of the Senior Management Team which includes a Head of School.

1.5 In order for the Trustee-Governors to provide coherent accountability for the Trust and the School within the Trust the School Constitution is built on the following principles:

- All Trustees are also School Governors; known as Trustee-Governors
- The Board's specific duties as Governors are discharged by
 - Meetings of Trustee-Governors as part of the bimonthly Board Meetings
 - Additional meetings of Trustee-Governors convened as needed by the Clerk to Trustees or the Trustee-Governor nominated Chair of Governors
 - The Education Subcommittee of the Board reviewing educational issues in detail
 - The Education (Operations) Team of Senior Managers – reporting to the Education Subcommittee

This Constitution sets out how these various responsibilities will be shared between Trustee-Governors; the Chief Executive Officer of Glebe House and the Head of Education.

Glebe House is a Quaker-led organisation and the Trustees use the Quaker Business Method in their deliberations. The Quaker Business Method does not involve voting.

Constitution

1. Instrument of Government

The name of the School is the Glebe House School.

It is a Non -Association Independent Special School and sits within the wider structure of the Friends Therapeutic Community Trust.

The Board of Governors (Trust Board) will be made up of all the current Trustees, known as Trustee-Governors. Trustee-Governors will appoint members of the Education Subcommittee (ESC) to meet the tasks identified within the Education Subcommittee's Terms of Reference (Appendix 1). The Trust Board as Governing body of the School can appoint co-opted advisers to ESC who are not Trustee-Governors.

Trust Board as Governing body of the School will identify a Chair of the Educational Subcommittee from within the Trustee cohort who will keep minutes of the Education Subcommittee meetings.

The Trust Board as Governing body of the School will periodically audit the skills of the Trustee-Governors and work with the Board and Chief Executive Officer to ensure that as far as possible the Trust Board as Governing body of the School has the skills it requires to discharge its duties. The Trust Board as Governing body of the School will consider equal opportunities and ways to support a wider representation on the Governing body.

The task of braiding work of the three main teams: Therapy, Education & Milieu, within the Community will be carried out by The Senior Management Team – reporting to the Education Subcommittee (see Appendix 2 for Terms of Reference) and the Trust Board.

Details of the various aspects of the decision-making processes and who holds accountability for them is contained in Appendix 3 'Decision Making Tracker'.

Terms of Office

All Trustee-Governors will serve for three years initially, renewable for one further triennium.

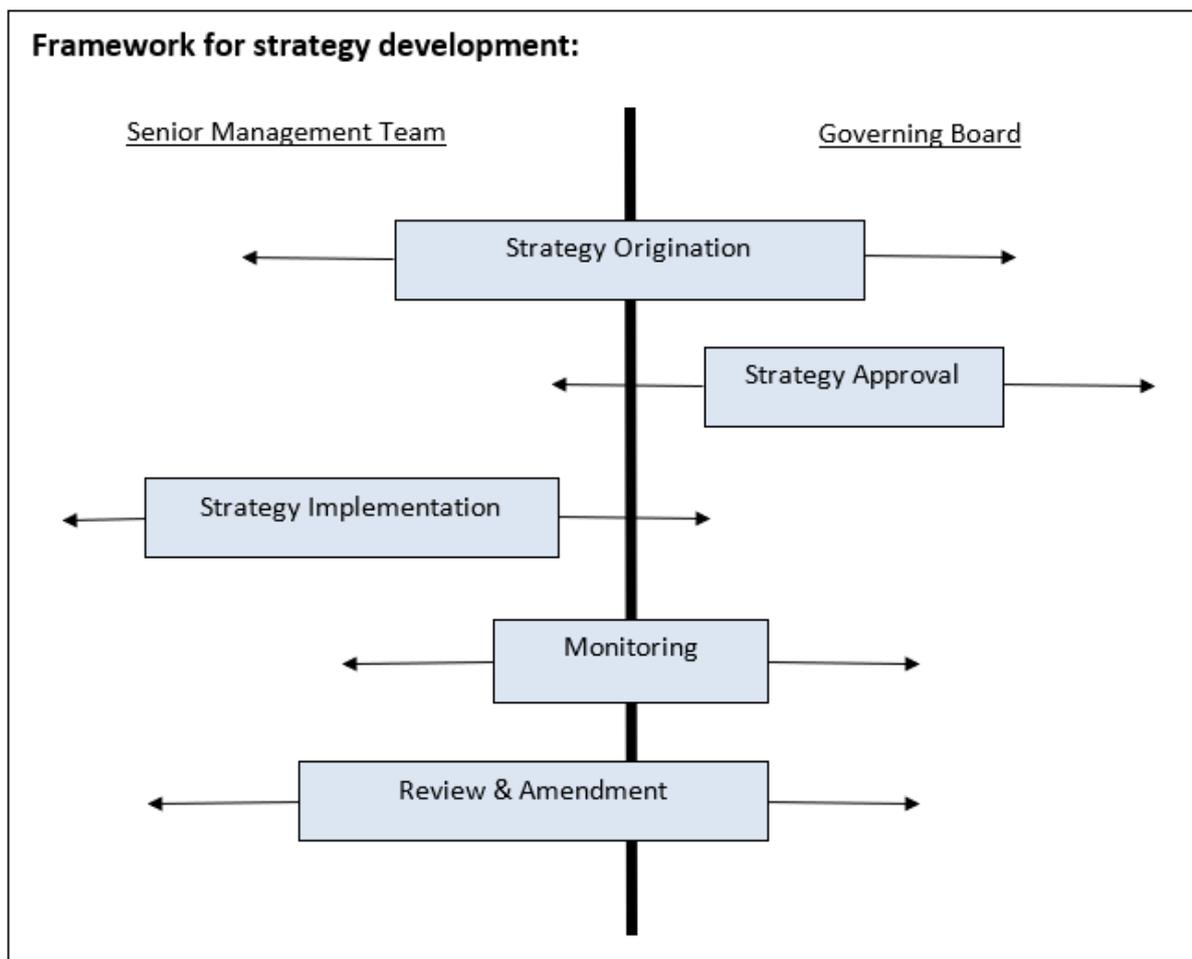

2. Role of the Trust Board as governing body of the School

School Governing bodies have three key roles:

- ensuring the vision, ethos and strategic direction of the School are clearly defined.
- ensuring that the head teacher performs his or her responsibilities for the educational achievement of the School.
- ensuring the sound, proper and effective use of the School's financial resources

This Constitution recognises that the specialist nature of the Glebe House Community means that many aspects of education may need to be carried out by, or in conjunction with, staff across the whole Trust (including Milieu and Clinical staff) rather than wholly within the physical setting of the school building. Equally the Trust Board as Governing body of the School recognises that the educational needs of its young people need to receive due weight within the wider therapeutic goals of the Trust and each individual placement with the Service. It is with this in mind that some of the responsibilities of the Trustee-Governors are delegated to the Chief Executive Officer rather than the Head of Education.

Appendix 3 sets out in detail who is responsible for all educational functions normally associated with a school. In summary:

The duties usually associated with a School Governing body will be discharged in the following ways:

- The development of the vision and ethos of the school will be facilitated by the Education Subcommittee and presented through the annual School Development Plan. This plan will be reviewed annually by the Trust Board as Governing body of the School.
- The Education Subcommittee will monitor school performance in line with the its Terms of Reference, reporting progress at meetings of the Trust Board as Governing body of the School.
- The Head of Education will be line managed as a delegated task by the Chief Operational Officer (Service) who will take into account the views of Trustee-Governors in carrying out this role.
- The Trust Board as Governing body of the School will be responsible and accountable for ensuring the sound, proper and effective use of the financial resources to ensure the Trust's obligation to provide high quality education are discharged in a prudent manner. This task is operationally delegated to the Head of Education.

3. Safeguarding

Given the nature of the work at Glebe House Therapeutic Community and School, it is important to note that Safeguarding is given the highest priority across the whole Trust.

All staff have a responsibility to keep learners safe. Overall accountability for ensuring effective Safeguarding is delivered lies with the Clinical Director, reporting to the Chief Executive Officer; who subsequently reports to Trust Board as Governing body of the School. This includes all aspects of Safeguarding within the School environment.

All Trustee-Governors, upon appointment, are committed to the high standards of Safeguarding maintained at Glebe House. The Administrative Office will ensure that every Trustee-Governor holds the relevant Enhanced Criminal Record Certificate and completes the relevant training within a reasonable period of appointment.

4. Health and safety

The School will follow the same Health and Safety guidance as the rest of Trust. Accountability for all Health and Safety within Glebe House lies with the Trust Board as Governing body of the School.

5. Internal Exclusions

Temporary internal exclusions will relate to either behaviour or safeguarding matters. Such exclusions will be considered by the Head of Education and Chief Operational Officer (Service). Alternative arrangements for delivering the school's obligation for educational and vocational activities will be made during any temporary internal exclusion.

A proposal for a permanent exclusion from the education provision would trigger a full programme and placement review, as that would make the placement in the facility untenable. Any permanent exclusion decision is a delegated decision on behalf of the Trust Board as Governing body of the School by the Head of Education and the Chief Operational Officer (Service).

6. The Governing Body may

- establish committees or working parties
- liaise with outside bodies or experts

7. Research

The Trust Board as Governing body of the School will support the School in participating in the Trust's wider research programme.

8. Publications of names of Governors and a register of their interests

Due to the complex nature of the work carried out by Glebe House, the names of Governors will not be available on the Trust website. They can be requested by writing to the Administrator. The Administrative Office will keep an up to date register of all relevant interests held by Governors. The exceptions to this are those Governors who hold identified roles within education.

9. A Quaker-led School.

The Friends' Therapeutic Community Trust is Quaker-led and the Trust Board uses the Quaker Business Method (see <https://qandb.org/resources/publications/150-quaker-business-method>) in its deliberations. Like the rest of Glebe House, the School includes Quaker values in its ethos and vision. This does not mean that it is a faith School, rather it is an independent School which is based on Quaker values.

So far as is possible and practicable, the Trust Board as Governing body of the School and the ESC will use the Quaker Business Method in its deliberations.

10. Removal of Trustee-Governors, including the Chair of ESC

The Trust Board as Governing body of the School has the power to remove any Trustee-Governor should it deem it appropriate. Factors that may cause the Trust Board to considering removing a trustee-governor include:

- A criminal offence
- A safeguarding offence
- Severe mental health or substance misuse problem
- Prolonged absence from Board of Governors meetings or repeated absence without sufficient cause
- Behaviour that breaches the Trust's policy relating to bullying or discrimination or otherwise brings the Trust or the School into disrepute.

Any Trustee-Governor who feels that they have been unfairly removed can appeal to the Trust Board and that appeal will be heard in Private.

11. Resolution of disagreements

The Trust Board holds overall responsibility for the governance and accountability of The Friends' Therapeutic Community Trust.

In the event of disagreements within the Board or the Trust Board as Governing body of the School, The Clerk to the Trustees will consider the circumstances and use the Quaker Business Method, including the option for a Meeting for Clearness, to seek a resolution.

Decision tracker for Trust Board and Governing Board to clarify where decisions regarding education lie

This decision tracker shows the powers and responsibilities that relate to education within the trust and how the Trustee Board has delegated these. It complements the formal constitution of the Board of Governors and could in principle be extended to other committees and functions.
